King, Robert P.
[Erie, PA]

1914-1926

August 5th, 1914.

Mr. R. P. King,
c/o L. S. & M. S. Ry.,
Erie, Pa.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter at hand, and I note what you have to say, and appreciate the position you are in. Do not let this disturb you in the least. Things like that happen, and we have got to make the most of them. I think that we can get along all right by correspondence, and although it might not be possible to check up things so quickly, as time is not a factum, things will work out all right.

Much obliged for the two notes on reverses from Warner's pamphlet. I will study these out, and as we have here in the library a pamphlet of his filled with cuts, I think I can discribe these two new reverses minutely.

I will from time to time take up various things that I may need help on. Two things I think of right now. One is any Lincoln medals that have been issued in the past year and a half for these might have escaped Mr. Hewitt, or have been issued since his death. Another point I am working on is the careful examination of the different obverse and reverse dies of the little mint medals, the ones with the head of Lincoln and reverse with heads of Washington, Grant, Garfield, Broken Column, &c. If you could send these on to me to study out, I would be much obliged. We do not want you to incur any expense, as we have ample funds to bring out the book.

I beg to remain,

Very truly.

September 8th, 1914.

Mr. R. P. King,
c/o L. S. & M. S. Ry. Co.,
Erie, Pa.

Dear Mr. King:-

Your letter and package containing medals came to hand to-day, and I want to thank you very much for sending these on because if you had described them I would not have found certain things about them that I have found out.

Your large Grand Army medal makes the third die. Mr. Hewitt had one that is almost identical with your first die except it has the monogram J.F.R. under 1909.

The Outlet Company medals showing two reverses, now makes three reverses. I have one almost the same as your brass one, but the lettering is spaced slightly different. I would not have discovered this except I was closely examining all three specimens.

The little Key medal I had already noted the two different styles of beading. I doubt, however, if I will be able to fully straighten out all of the different reverses so as to be able to tell which obverse goes with which.

The Gettysburg medal I already have.

I am glad you called my attention to Elder's sale catalogue. I had overlooked Lot 257, and am going to see Elder to see if I can locate this piece. His Lot 268a is a medal he has just gotten out. You can get this in a variety of metals, as is usual with Elder's productions. He states there are 6 silver, 6 copper, 6 brass, 6 German silver, 6 white metal, 6 pewter, and 50 aluminum.

The piece you spoke of that Mathas wrote you about exists. If I have the right piece, it has the obverse of the Ellis medal with the inscription HON. ABRAHAM LINCOLN 1860. Reverse THE RAILSPLITTER OF THE WEST. I have a record this comes muled with Eagle, Kossuth, Yates card, Jennings Wheeler & Co., Public Square, Nashville, West's Trained Dogs, and the reverse of Doremus and Nixon's card without their name. Zabriskie has this in copper and brass.

I have been unable to get the photographer. As soon as I am, I will return you your medals.

I beg to thank you very much, and remain,
Yours sincerely,

September 16th, 1915.

Dear Mr. King:-

Your letter at hand, and the piece you sent on I have. There is a young collector here in New York who I think would like it. This was made and given to the school children of Boston on Evacuation Day, 1901.

I have not discovered anything new in the way of Lincoln. I have been held up because I have been unable to go over two prominent Lincoln collections. One consists fully of campaign souvenirs formed at the time, and I think may reveal a lot of things I do not know about. In the catalogue I will include one of those large burlesque Lincoln pieces, simply stating that the name of various cities have been substituted in the panel. The aluminum cards with the Lincoln cent in the centre I am not going to include, possibly when I describe the Lincoln cent I may state that these cents, together with the Indian Head cents, have been mounted up into aluminum borders as lucky cents and advertising cards. I have forgotten whether I asked your opinion as to the best way of arranging the series. Hewitt, as you know, listed them by size. This probably is the easiest way. Whether the best way or not I do not know. Another way that has occurred to me, though there are some objections to it, is by epochs, that is, first Lincoln campaign, first presidency, second campaign, second presidency, assassination, miscellaneous medals to 1909, 1909 series, then those issued since, Masonic, mint issues, those pertaining to military and Grand Army organizations, store cards, ferrotypes. This arrangement would require quite an elaborate index and cross reference as medals of the same obverse might fill in several series. I would like your opinion on what you think would be the best arrangement.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. King:-

Your letter at hand enclosing the new shield shape Lincoln. I will list this piece but will hold on to it for a while until I get a sufficient number of pieces to put on one negative. I suppose this is your specimen. I am glad to know about this. I saw Elder a day or so ago and he has promised to save me some of the Lincoln Preparedness pieces. He has not got them yet. The description in his catalogue is not correct as the reverse die has been changed. In due course of time I send you specimens of these in a couple of different metals.

I did not know of any die varieties in the large size Indian Peace medal but am not surprised. I have compared our mint restrike, which is old, with one of the original silver pieces and as far as I can see, they are identical. The probabilities are that at some time or other the die broke and they have made a new die so as to keep the series on tap. When you get your piece I will be glad to hear from you what the differences are.

I have included two plaques of Brenner's. One 2 9/16 wide and the other 1 13/16 wide. I am a little at a loss to know which one you call Snelder's plaque. Can you give me the size and a brief description because I certainly want to list it. Possibly I have it but as all my pieces are arranged by sizes, it is an awful job to look up unless I have the size. I would be glad to have one of the American Badge Specimens and as you say you have several, could you save one for us? I think I have listed the Minneapolis Bank that was in Lambert's sale. I have one of the First National Bank, 2 inches wide. Probably this is it.

To tell you the turth the Lincoln Book is lying daunt as I am simply filled up with other kinds of work and can hardly give any time to this. The fact is that I am a good deal like the European forces, at a dead lock. I am waiting targo thorough Proskey's collection, but somehow, neither of us can arrange any time.

Very truly yours,

Erie, Pa.

Dear Mr. King:-

Your letter at hand. Some time, at your convenience, I would like to see that modern Lincoln Indian peace medal. We have here original silver ones, so that I can tell absolutely whether the restrike now issued is from the old die or not.

The book is not progressing at all satisfactory. I am trying to keep the card list as up to date as possible, but as time goes on I find I have less and less time to really consistently take up this book. I feel that something ought to be done, and in the fall we are going to try to make arrangements with one of our members to take over the editing, etc., of this.

I do not know where you could get a copy of the first Cadillac card. If I remember correctly I saw one in one of Elder's sales, and wrote the Cadillac people for one. They sent me a medal, but it was different than the one I saw at Elder's. I suppose you have written them too, and the reason we can not get the first Cadillac medal is because they have none left. The address I wrote to was the agent at 232 Halsey Street, Newark, N. J. Possibly if you wrote to the main office at Detroit you might get other cards.

I have a large number of Civil War tokens that I have not looked over. Undoubtedly there are some Lincoln's in these, but it is impossible to say when I can get around to this, as there is so much more important work ahead of me. The Society has been selling the Lincoln plaques, although we have not as yet advertised them. You can get a silver one for $10.00, and a bronze one for $5.00. Let me know which you want, and I will have one sent you.

Very truly yours,

July 29th, 1916.

Mr. Robert P. King,
c/o N. Y. C. Railway Co.,
Erie, Pa.

Dear Mr. King:-

Your letter and package arrived. Many thanks for the little Lincoln piece.

I have compared the Indian medal carefully with our original silver one, and find no difference at all on the obverse. The reverse however is from a different die, though in all but one instance the differences are slight. The chief way to tell is on the original J. WILLSON DEL & SC. is under the ground in the center medalion. The other differences are so slight they would hardly be noticed. I am sending you a rubbing from the original which you can have for your files. We have plenty of the Lincoln plaques on hand, so that you can get one whenever you want.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr Wood

Please note enclosed letter from Mr Chapman with reference to the set of medals you recently sent me photos of -

You said there was a set for sale in New York at 75⁰⁰ - Has this set been sold yet or is it one of the other three sets mentioned by Mr Chapman and is there really only four sets in existence?

You will note our list is short the brass piece, I have compared this with the description in Elder's Sale of some time ago and find The set the Catalogue is short the same has for which I will ask if they is the ^{admission} and Elmer has for sale or if they will back the transaction this day can you say?

Also would like it possible to obtain addresses of the three owners mentioned in this letter, not in connection with this set but as general collectors in general

Can you further progress with the book?

As I have run out of question marks I will bid you an affectionate farewell
Yours

Dear King:-

Your letter at hand. The Lincoln medals that Henry Chapman offers you were all owned by F. U. C. Boyd who bought four sets, including a few odd ones, one or two brass and one or two gold ones sometime ago. He evidently has sold two sets and has kept one and the fourth set he offered to me for $75. Evidently he could not find a purchaser and has put them into Chapman's hands and from the price they are now offered for, I should judge that he came down in price very considerably. The set to my mind is well worth the $80. Unfortunately the Society has not that amount of money to buy otherwise we could have secured them a long ago.

F. U. C. Boyd's address is 254 Academy Street, New York,

Elliott Smith's address is 40 Anderson St., New Rochelle, N. Y., and Harry Montgomery died a few months ago. What has become of his coins I do not know. I think Herritt of Rochester is selling some of them.

If my memory serves me correctly, all of the sets lack one brass piece. The one or two gold pieces round were not put into the set and were sold separately I think.

I am sorry there is no further progress on the Lincoln Book.

Very sincerely yours,

September 26th, 1917.

Mr. R. P. King,
c/o L.S. M.S. R'way,
Erie, Pa.

Dear Mr. King:-

Your letter and the medal have come to hand. The pin bar that is lacking on the piece you sent is not at all necessary, and there is no need to photograph it. I will return this piece as soon as I have occasion to have some more photographs made.

I have hopes of getting that Lincoln medal I spoke about the other day, but until I do actually get it, I am not saying anything.

The letter from Piets I am returning. He generally sends us specimens of the better class medals he makes. If he sends you the new Lincoln he speaks about let us know, and if we receive one I will let you know.

I have no idea what those enamel buttons are that were listed in Elder's August Sale. I was away at the time, and did not see the catalogue until too late. I will try to remember to find out what I can from him the next time I see him.

Unfortunately the Society has very little accurate data on the Sigel Lincoln medal, which was the first piece the Society issued. It was in the hands of a Committee or several Committees that strung along for a period of years. Our records show that they were struck in both bronze and white metal. The accounts of the small number struck are undoubtedly wrong as there seem to be more known than these small numbers would warrant, and I should judge that there are about as many in white metal as in bronze. Also there was a rumor that the die cracked after some small number was struck, but the dies in our possession show no crack, and also they are the identical dies that struck all of the medals that we have seen. We have a second pair of dies showing certain changes of which no specimens were said to have been struck from, and certainly we have never seen any.

Now for the cast pieces, the history is this, that the blanks of these medals on account of the high relief of the design were all cast and then struck from the dies. We have here in both white metal and bronze struck and cast specimens. It is said that a number of very finely cast pieces were brought out at the tail end of the issue as they did not think the dies would stand striking any more. You mention block tin, I think these are the white metal medals that I refer to because much white metal is very largely tin.

It is news to me that Dr. Disbrow has one of the original dies of our medal. I can not understand it.

I am sorry I can not give you any further exact information on our first medal.

Very truly yours,

April 6th, 1918.

My dear Mr. King:-

I am very glad to hear from you, and also wish to congratulate you on your new position. From what you say I should judge you did well to make the change, and trust that you will continue liking your new job.

Lincoln medals have been going rather slow with us. Since Mr. Hewitt's death, there has been no one here interested in the subject, for I can not give any special time to it. Although when he was alive it was our intention to publish a book on this subject, I doubt if we will ever do it now for there is no one here to push it, also no money for the purpose, and the collection which he said he was going to leave to us, he did not, and his widow recently gave it to the National Museum at Washington. We are, without especial effort, still collecting data. As I may have told you some little time ago we sent our book with all of the material to Mr. Cathcart, of the Western Reserve Historical Society, who appeared much interested in the subject, his museum having a large collection, buying a short time ago Montgomery's pieces. Since then we have not been able to get back the material.

The medal you sent a rubbing of seems new to me. I do not remember it in the book, and should not wonder but that it is one that has been overlooked.

I never was able to locate that Jew pawn broker again, so doubt if I will ever see that medal though undoubtedly another one will turn up. I am glad to know about the Lincoln medal that John Williams Company made, and have made a note of it.

As yet we have not heard again from Adam Piets concerning the second Lincoln medal. In fact I had forgotten about it. Why don't you write him?

Under separate cover I am enclosing a fob with a Lincoln head, which you may have. This is the only new thing that did come in.

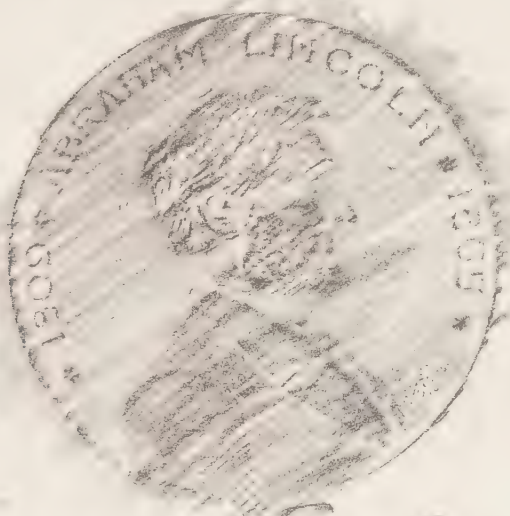

In the meantime I beg to remain,

Very sincerely yours,

92.577 m

In the excitement I have forgot whether I thank you for the letter of the 10th or not. But I do appreciate it very much it is a beautiful little thing.
I am sure that there may be obtained. I have written the Lancaster Co. to obtain the same and will give a list.
I am very sorry to hear that the Lancaster Catalogue is being left by default. I had looked upon it as with a great deal of probability and it really seems to be so. All this data is to waste as you say. I am sure it will be a great help to the Lancaster and I am sure I have much to learn from the Lancaster Catalogue.
I am sure it will be a great help to me.

Here the only one in existence the statue - is ready a very good head of Lincoln. Perhaps I can rub it to show you what it is like.

It is a very fine thing. I struck on thin copper and the "intaglio" or impression being filled up with lead it is only a kind of "shell" with the little rim around edge.

And as I said before the picture of Lincoln is excellent. It is quite highly struck.

I thank you again for your many kindnesses.

Dear Mr Wood

Do you want me to continue sending you cuttings and descriptions of new Lincoln pieces that may come to hand or is the Lincoln Catalogue positively abandoned? I sincerely hope not however.
I have recently acquired a piece new to me - "National Republican Convention Leaves to Lady" - very handsome and not hard rubbing if desired.

I thank you for the tip re. the new letter taken by Perry - I got one of them from him and then I will have him show me a pair.

We are to have a Lincoln half dollar commemorative of the Illinois Centennial do you know whether these have been issued from the mint yet or not?
In this connection I wonder if Whithead & Son have issued a number of pieces for use in the various celebrations throughout Illinois this year; his understanding.

Do you recall what date 7/1/51,

Dear Mr. Wood:-

Replying to yours of September¹³, just received with reference to the Lincoln Catalog now in the hands of Mr. Cathcart.

I cannot well spare the time to go to Cleveland, nor do I think it would be as satisfactory from my point of view as having the material here where I could go through it at my leisure in the evenings, so as I infer from your letter you think the Western Reserve have had it long enough, would appreciate it very much if you will have Mr. Cathcart send it on to me, I will agree to return it to you inside of two years, probably will not want longer than two or three weeks, a month at the outside.

Any new interests in which I could be of any service to you?

My dear Mr. King:-

The package of the Lincoln material came to hand Friday. I would have acknowledged this sooner only certain things prevented my doing so. I want to thank you for returning this material so promptly. As yet I have not had an opportunity to go through it to see what the Western Reserve Historical Society has done with the matter. I will try to get off to you in a few days what supplementary matter I have. It is chiefly rough notes and photographs without any attempt to classify.

The card catalogue presumably includes all of the pieces in the Zabriskie collection but as this collection was looked over some years ago, some parts fairly hurriedly, I am inclined to think that there may be an occasional piece now and then that escaped Mr. Howitt. We have this collection now in the building, and sometime I will try to put somebody on to it to compare it carefully with our card catalogue.

I beg to thank you again for the prompt returning of the catalogue, and believe me,

Dear Mr. King:

Getting ready for our annual meeting has side-tracked my getting at the Lincoln material. I am sending you herewith what little we have.

I thought I had aged real well. You will note there are a few photographs and one or two manuscripts. This stuff is absolutely side-tracked with us, as we have no money to publish it, and there is no one since Mr. Hewitt's death directly interested in Lincoln medals. Any use you can make of the material we have gotten together, you are welcome to.

I am sorry I have not been a better correspondent in recent months, but several large collections of Oriental coins, numbering about 20,000, have kept me busy during all my spare time for the past two years, and will keep me going for many years to come.

Any data that I get hold of on Lincoln medals, so that the catalogue can be kept up to date, I am glad to get. I will file it away with the rest of the data, so that someone can make use of it some time.

Very truly,

It certainly has been a long time since we have written to one another, and I have not given a thought to Lincoln medals for a number of years. Nothing has really come to the Museum worth mentioning, but we have had a multitude of coins and medals presented to us.

Thank you very much for the three little tokens; it was very good of you to send them. I am glad that I am still remembered although I think I do not deserve it!

I hope that you have been picking up some nice additions for your cabinet, and that you are well.

Dear Mr. King:

Replying to your favour of June 14th, I shall be very glad to do what I can in checking up the Lincoln Civil War tokens. I understand that all the Robbins Keyce and Ward tokens were made since the War. I am uncertain about the key cards with high relief of Lincoln, Grant and McClellan. They are generally included but I think that they do not belong in the Civil War series.

I shall be away most of July but will try to look over the list every chance I get.

Dear Mr. King:

I want to congratulate you on the Lincoln number. I think I know pretty well the amount of work involved in making this list.

I cannot remember that we have had anything new in Lincoln material of late. The photographs have arrived safely, and I do not see that they are much the worse for wear.

Very truly yours,

Curator

Dear Mr. King:

Mr. John M. Conner, Jr. has asked me to photograph for you two medals with Lincoln inscriptions. These I take pleasure in enclosing, herewith.

I suppose you are still adding Lincoln material to your Collection. We seem to be acquiring nothing new, otherwise you would have heard from me.

Trusting you are well, I am,

Very truly yours,

Encs.

Dear Mr. Wood:

I am going to trespass on your time a little which I trust you will pardon. Of late I have been "dabbling" a little in Bungtowns, - a few came my way in a trade, came across some more later on, and have been acquiring them since wherever possible, I would like to ask you if you know of any work on these, or any list showing varieties, any information as to where they originate etc?

I do not imagine these are held in very high esteem by serious minded collectors, still I think that anything connected with the early settlement of our country is worthy of study.

Will be very glad to hear from you with regard to this,

I am,

Yours Very Truly,

Dear Mr. King:

Your question with regard to the Bungtowns is somewhat hard to answer, as so little really good has been written concerning them.

One of Scott's Stamp and Coin Company's copper Catalogues, before the last or 1893 edition, contained a very good list of these pieces. Unfortunately, we have not this Catalogue here, and I cannot remember the exact date of issue. In the book of Atkins' Tokens of the 18th Century, is a good list from the English standpoint of the counterfeit half-pence of George III. There is a pamphlet by C. W. Betts on counterfeit half-pence, issued in Pennsylvania. There are also a number of short articles, but no catalogue or check list, in various numbers of the American Journal of Numismatics. I firmly believe that 99% of them were made in England.

Mr. Hillyer Ryder, of Carmel, N.Y., is a very active collector of these pieces, and if you should communicate with him, I think that he would be able to help you more than I can.

Very truly yours,

Curator
